Coca-Cola Andina enters the Sustainability Index of the Santiago Stock Exchange (Dow Jones Sustainability Chile Index).

Nine companies listed on the Santiago Stock Exchange will become part of the Sustainability Index of the Santiago Stock Exchange (Dow Jones Sustainability Chile Index, DJSI Chile).

This index is part of the Dow Jones Sustainability Index family and is composed by only 21 listed companies in the Santiago Stock Exchange.

Santiago, Chile - September 8, 2016 – Coca-Cola Andina (Embotelladora Andina S.A., Santiago Stock Exchange: Andina-A, Andina-B; NYSE: AKO/A, AKO/B), the second largest Coca-Cola bottler in South America and one of the three largest in Latin America, announced today that it was selected to form part of the Dow Jones Sustainability Index family (Dow Jones Sustainability Index or "DJSI").

Starting September 19, 2016, Coca-Cola Andina becomes part of the Dow Jones Sustainability Chile Index (DJSI Chile), forming part of a group of 21 Chilean companies.

"We are honored to become part of an important family of indexes that recognizes company leadership in the sustainable management of the industry in which we operate, in terms of corporate governance, transparency, risk management, value chain, environmental management, talent attraction and development, and work with the community, among others", explained Miguel Angel Peirano, Coca-Cola Andina's Chief Executive Officer.

The executive added that "this acknowledgement from the DJSI is a reflection of our team's dedication and commitment to develop sustainable business processes and consistently deliver value to our stakeholders and the communities we have the privilege to serve. This great achievement is also a future challenge to continue growing and strengthening our leadership and reinforcing our commitment to create shared value by integrating economic, social and environmental aspects".

The scopes where Coca-Cola Andina most stood-out were brand management, customer relationship and management, risk and crisis management, environmental policies, raw material sourcing, water related risks, corporate citizenship, occupational health and safety, and talent attraction and retention, among other variables.
